PABLO HERRERA

Pablo joined Mayora IP in 2023, having previously worked in-house for a leading global digital payments platform in relation to compliance, including among others IP infringements' surveillance.

At Mayora IP Pablo oversees civil litigation cases, extending to contracts and agreements and even criminal and anticounterfeiting matters. He also provides continual legal support to the firm's El Salvador and Honduras offices, as part of its integrated IP service delivery across the region.

Pablo brings significant knowledge across compliance, corporate and tax, as well as constitutional court experience, all via his academic studies and public internships; notably, Pablo undertook an international legal internship at the Guatemalan Embassy in Washington DC. Recognised as a leading student at university through various awards, Pablo brings excellent communication and advocacy skills to the MIP team.
