KATHERINE CHAVEZ

Katherine joined Mayora IP in 2024 bringing 6 years' of varied experience gained across multiple legal disciplines, such as labor, civil, commercial, and administrative law. She has learnt the firm's intellectual property practice from the ground up following two stints as paralegal with the IP department, before graduating from law school and promotion to associate in 2024.

Katherine is an integral part of Mayora IP's fully integrated practice-wide trademark team spanning all three of its offices, providing support to brand owners all the way from clearance through to protection and maintenance. She has a strong focus on advising the firm's Spanish-speaking clients who file nationally in the Northern Triangle countries but also beyond, with notable expertise in dealing with public bodies and navigating complex administrative-legal formalities.
